Alright theres a big arguement going on about the meaning of the end of this movie. (When Edward Nortans character shoots himself)

I just thought I would see if anyone here has an opinion on what this ending means.

Why does shooting himself make Tyler go away

Why is the bullet whole in the center of the back of Tylers head when Edward Nortans character seems to have just shot a bullet threw his cheek.

Why does Tyler say "whats tha smell" before he dies.
