Doitle!m really not to pro-smoking as I don't think many are but. I dunno I don't think a tador of a drink every once in a while are so bad. People always take it to excess but if you can trust yourself to have self-control you'll be fine around alchohol.

Alcohol isn't near as bad, as you just said, but you never know if I could become one of those people who take it to excess. Just to make the best of myself, it's my choice to not touch anything such as drugs/smoking/alcohol.
