i'm a html newbie, but..

couldn't glyde take that template, choose "edit with notepad", save the code, save every image used, put everything in one folder, edit the "img src" pieces to his own picture links, create his own .htm file and upload it somewhere when he purchases a website?

hell, couldn't anyone do that?