Been following this game and a few Stargate source mods for a while now.

It's being made by some basicly unknown Austrailian game company called JoWood. They made Soldner if anyone liked that game. People had their doubts about them, but I think they're doing an excellent job from what I can see.

It's running on the Unreal 2.5 engine too.