I've seen many people complaining about some of the maps in the rotations on most of the servers I've been on. I'm not bothered really but I'd like to see more of the non-standard maps being used too (seeing as I downloaded about 150 of them)

Is there any way of adding some kind of !losemap vote into the server, and if it gets, say 50 votes, then it gets replaced by the one advertised on the welcome note?

I think it would add more variety, and stop people complaining that Hourglass and Under suck
