

---

Subject: The FOX Blocker

Posted by SuperFlyingEngi on Sun, 27 Mar 2005 22:14:37 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I know, of course one can just not watch FOX News. But that's not the point of the FOX Blocker.

<http://www.foxblocker.com/>With every order placed, FOXBlocker.com will send an e-mail in your name to the TOP 10 advertisers at FOX News letting them know that yet another subscriber has opted out of FOX News. With a little luck and a lot of volume, we can shut the FOX up!

It's meant as a message to FOX and it's affiliates that you are willing to pay money to actively be removed from them. If enough people participate in this, then advertisers may be swayed.

And this device blocks a specific channel on your TV, not FOX, so you can block whatever you want with it. The channel is set at time of manufacture.

I just though everyone would be interested.

---