

---

Subject: Hijacked: SEAL's vision.

Posted by Fabian on Wed, 06 Apr 2005 21:56:53 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Mainly, I have to scooch up from my chair to not lose track of where I am when I finish a line. This is because the text is small and the lines are so close together. Normally it's not a problem, but I was really tired when I was looking at it. Still though, that's stupid on the website's part.

I don't know why I bother... no doubt someone who knows nothing about me will try and be funny by saying I need to learn how to read. I can read, trust me...the problem is with the lame micro-text.

---