The server I was playing on shut down so I tried to enter another another server to continue playing Renegade. Everything was going fine, the game began to load, and then Renegade closed, I heard a message that I had been disconected from RenGaurd and then a message appeared in the Rengaurd log about some lan-exploit. I have no idea of what that is or what happened.

Here is the full log.

In case you were wondering, I was entering and exiting UNRULES so much because my team was over run with noobs and I was hoping that somehow I could get put on the opposite team... No luck...

Well anyways, what exactly is a lan-exploit, and why cant I seem to get to the screen where you make a post half the time in this forum?
