Well, I think it's an important discussion to have, especially with so many impressionable youths around.

And whoever said that people drinking doesn't affect anyone else? Why don't you tell that to the thousands of families who have lost a loved one because THEY were driving sober when a drunk driver hit them. When you drink and drive, you affect yourself, your passengers, and everyone else on the road. It's one of the most stupid things you can do.

As for pot, I used to know a guy who smoked pot all the time. One day he was depressed because Domino's fired him and Pizza Hut wouldn't hire him, so he ordered a pizza from Pizza Hut and when the lady (40 year old mother of two) delivered the pizza, he shot her point blank and killed her. He was convicted of second-degree murder. When the cops arrived and asked him why he did it, his pot-hazed reply was "I don't know". You can be DAMN sure that I will not allow pot into my system, nor even into my house. People say it's not addicting and it mellows you out, but what I see is that it takes away your concern for anything. You just do whatever you want because you don't care about the consequences. I have a very low opinion of people who smoke pot on a regular basis.
