Goodbye for now folks

Unclassified

My Unit and I are scheduled to deploy to Baghdad, Iraq within the next week and I'm going to be gone for many months. I will try and make an entry here and there if possible but getting an internet connection over there is pretty tough. If however (if any) the entries suddenly stop and there are no posts from me by October 05 you know I didn't make it.
On that note I will say this:

Renegade/n00bstories/Official Renegade Forums & many other servers/forums that I've played/posted in, has been a GREAT game/community and I've made many friends and very few enemies (I hope). Always considered myself a fair gamer/person and I hope many of you that remain become closer in friendship and put all your differences aside. Our Renegade community is as we all know dwindling and some of us find it really hard to give up this bond. Be good to one another and remember that once a Renegadeer ... always a Renegadeer!

My resources are limited over there so if I can't post I will email Crimson and she will speak on my behalf and from time to time I'll try to send a picture.

Good Luck all of you & ...

GOD SPEED

Ripintou (Dave)
