Sniper_De7I'm sorry I do not meet your expectations instructor. I swear that i'll have my report done by the end of this week! Please... If this was a report due for school I'd check my writing and I'd give a damn because that would be the difference between a good grade and a bad grade. So hopefully you can manage reading without a few commas and mistakes that anyone makes...

When posting in a forum, the least you could do is make your post actually readable or not really annoying to read.
