Well I voted for Deth River since I was suggesting it be included since Core Patch 1 was released. It's a good map, well balanced and tends to promote longer, more interesting games... yet unlike Hourglass/Field, it's possible to get into areas of the enemy base even while the defences are still active. It doesn't look half bad either compared to the stock Westwood maps, although it could be touched up if it was to go into the patch.
