The fact that I'm 6'8 and weigh in around 215 makes me big, not how fast I type over the Internet. Unlike you I see no reason to make excuses for my own incompetence at writing the English language properly.

Do you enjoy being ignorant?

Quote:They aren't cheating you out of your share, Aircraftkiller. You've had plenty of your maps added to this and the last patch. They also voted fairly. Like I have said before, they have voted here because they want to see Deth_Islands added to CP2, over the other maps there. They've had to look at the other options in the list, so if they see anything else, then they have the free will to choose something else. They don't have a gun aimed at them.

So if I had everyone I know come over here to vote up all of my levels, you'd never complain at all? You wouldn't think that was an unfair practice? I didn't have to beg and plead with people to come in here and vote. They did it of their own accord. What they did was basically tampering with the votes so that they would win, instead of allowing the people who actually gave a damn about these forums to visit and vote for themselves.
