Nukelt15*Points out, with a blinding flash of the obvious, that the US imports more oil from Canada than from the top four oil producing countries in the Middle East combined.*

Sorry, your "facts" are about 4 years old. Mexico is currently our largest supplier, followed by Saudi Arabia, then Canada, Venezuela, Nigeria, etc..

The top four "middle east" countries are currently supplying us with about 2.4 million barrels a day, Canada provides about 1.4 million.
