

---

Subject: I don't know how you guys do it.

Posted by Blazea58 on Wed, 01 Jun 2005 14:31:03 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

My question really would be, if you wanted to learn the program wouldnt you think just trying everything would help you learn, rather then wasting hours on end reading tutorials that don't explain what your aiming for.

I didnt read a single tutorial for mapping and i just started from nothing and got better in time, learnt new things etc, then when i already was experienced i started to read extra tutorials to find things i hadn't learnt yet.

If you people really wanted to learn you have to do the effort of atleast trying to use the program regardless if you can or cant make a box etc just experiement and within time you will find ways around all your problems.

As halo said you cant just click "wall goes here" you gotta think outside the box lol

---