I think this view (avatar, name, etc. over post) looks better, you get extra space for your post.

The forum just needs to get the general color/theme of the older one, the layout and some features don't need to be changed, removed, etc. like before to match it, it just needs to have the general look of the old forum.

(Now, is it just me, or does any other normal member have moderating options visible besides me?)

lol i can edit ur posting =P
