Wow.

Great job with this one. Even though the music doesn't "get you in the mood to kill", it's just as dangerous. It's quite easy to become lulled into a false sense of security by listening to it, only to be jolted awake when you turn the corner to be greeted with a hail of bullets.

My only suggestion, though it's not a big one, is that the pillars in the "pond" area should have allowed you to use them as a short cut to the other side. Not a big thing, but an interesting feature (I think) to consider.

(And hey, if it impresses Aircraftkiller, it MUST be good)
