da_shizYeah...I'll admit that I instigated this, but I was just trying to defend myself and my "company." I was wrong in saying he's a fucktard, but he's wrong in SOO many other places there's no one instance that I can point out. I, unlike others, have realized my mistake and have moved past this. Now I am not posting this to make it seem like I think I am the better person. I am appologizing, although I find that genocide should appologize as well, I am not speaking for him and he has to make that decision by himself and I will continue to be on his side. ACK can flame me all he wants, and if he continues to do so, my opinion of him will diminish. If I should find him to be no more worthy than the dog shit on my lawn, then so be it! If that is true, it SHALL NOT be my fault that I feel that way, but be his because of his own actions.

P.S. CORRECTION: I reread my post, I didn't flame ACK, I called him a fucktard and told him to look into what was going on, I didn't say, "Your maps and mods suck..." as so many people do...I just simply called him a fucktard, yet it was still wrong.

CORRECTION: Saying "You're a fucktard" is flaming.
