The only reason I made cheats was out of revenge. You all might not have noticed yet but I never created those averaged boring cheats that made you any good. My purpose only is to make cheats that kill, destroy & spread terror. I myself do not cheat to be good (I find this very boring).

And for revenge. Crimson is a good person. I have no evil feelings at her no more (that does not include you Blazer) and therefore I won't mess with her server again. For all the other servers, prepare for The Doom.

And I really don't care about my IP being publicized. That is the least concern about everything. But 3 of my passwords being posted. I think sharing personal passwords of somebody else is already way out of line. And then sharing my passwords, that just crossed the line really good. I'm not mad, I'm furious.

And Crimson, the only reason I ever started hating you was because I met the wrong person (Ty). He told me about you and your community (a very long time ago). That the mods banned people for the smallest thing they did wrong. Later on I found out these were just lies. So war with Crimson is over. War with Blazer, Mac, Spooky and all those others that just go talk bad about me without actually knowing my real me, done anything what I think is wrong (Blazer: Cheat = Bad no matter what!, Spooky: just the same as Blazer, Mac: Allowing RenGuard to steal personal info. Upload an illegal version of RG if they hate you much.), for you guys the war just started.

Spoony & Blazer just go hate you for supporting Cheat. Going to make stuff up. That's what I really hate about you guys. Spooky said everyone who creates cheats made them because they suck. Wrong, I'm a very good player at most games (I'm really good at RTCW).

PS: The only thing that keeps driving me on, messing with servers, exploiting,... is most people's attitude around here. Fuck with me and I fuck back my way whether you like it or not. Whether people have to suffer from this that do not have anything to do with the case (like now, other servers have to suffer because Nightma12 thought it was fun to go play around with my account), and that other guy just posting 3 off my passwords public. The only servers that will be left alone are non00bs and Crimson's servers.

And Spooky,

no I won't (can't) even take a duel with you because you probably want me to go use RG. If people don't use RG. And they own you bad = They Cheat even if they don't.
