

---

Subject: Re: Kerry, Bush had similar grades

Posted by SuperFlyingEngi on Wed, 08 Jun 2005 22:10:41 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

gbullnotice the the hush over the liberal group in our community. SFE where did you go?

Oh please. I didn't reply because this is silly.

Grades, as they stand, do not account for intelligence. I have a friend who's really just as smart as I am, yet he gets low Bs and I'm a straight A student. I'm sure you all know the school cliché of how Einstein got low grades in school. There's also as Calvin & Hobbes cartoon that goes,

Calvin: "You know how Einstein got bad grades in school? Well, mine are even WORSE!"

Grades are nice, but they aren't the end-all of intelligence. That's what online IQ tests are for.

Gbull: Sorry I haven't gotten back to that thread about Saddam's mass graves. I've been busy for the past week with some CG stuff for my dad and it's been finals week. Don't worry, it's not forgotten, but I'm going to have to research a while to answer it. My final finals are tomorrow, though, so I'll be back full-time soon...

EDIT: Errors with quotation system.

---