whoops sorry, i voted yes by mistake

Don't get me wrong, I love the stuff you release and think that the core patch is great. However forcing a server to erm, well you could call it full corepatch i suppose that would be server suicide not enough people have renguard, let alone the corepatch, so when there is a core patch 2 available it stands to reason even less people will have that.

I am deffinatly for new features, and that sounds great for server owners. But I think it would just mean an empty server.
