But no, it wasn't ghosts.

Same here. I was playing a show somewhere around the city once and i started pickin' up shit on my amp while my friend (the singer) was talkin into the mic between songs. I got real confused and went up to the guy with the P.A. and got into this argument about them having reverb on the speakers cuz the voices coming through on my amp sounded like echoes of her talking.

But no, no ghosts. I've seen those fuckin' ghost shows on tv though, and that shit ALWAYS scares me to death without fail. Even on like ABC's Discovery Kid's ghost specials or somethin' where it's directed towards 10 year olds. That stuff always got to me in that frighteningly intriguing way.
