If he means having a life, as defined by living, then we all have a life. If he means having a life, by means of a social life, then I wonder what kind of social life someone who tells others to "get a life" has when he spends more time online than those he accuses does.

Oh holy Asscrackfiller, please tell me, how do you want to know how much i'm online? There's things called laptops, even if you don't seem to be able to afford one.

@ Gleitcreme:

Sure. Ask your mom how good i am at finding entrances/exits.

She doesn't really know you. So, I'll ask your mom instead. Mom jokes = gay.
