[quote title=trunksk gb wrote on Fri, 01 July 2005 13:41 me and jammy still had most kills...until we left lol. [/quote]

and there's your problem right there....I think you would solve the problem of being killed by suicide-bombing SBH units if you didn't participate so much in bunny hopping killing sprees like you were doing the other day....which would mean you weren't getting close to the SBH in the tunnels...it's unhealthy to bitch about crap tactics when you use them yourself y'know...so is it ok for me to moan that you used havoc for the entire length of all of the games I played with you, or would that be considered taking the game too seriously.
