Crimson wrote on Sun, 17 July 2005 22:09 That's bullshit, and I'm saying that as someone who lives in a place with a similar climate, but more vegetation and routine 115 degree weather. 120 IS that hot and it's difficult enough to get out to your car in that heat, much less walk a quarter mile while carrying 30 pounds of gear.

30 pounds is bad enough think about when they are going into combat with over 80 pounds of gear.

oh and those camel spiders are scary things. I know a guy who keeps spiders and milks their poison. (spiders scare the shit outta me) and he doesn't even like them.
