Hey, gbull? Remember Generals? Remember that, huh? EA Games made Generals and stuck the "Command & Conquer" name on it because they thought it'd be funny. Do you really want to see something like Generals happen to "Command & Conquer: Tiberian Twilight" or "Command & Conquer: Red Alert 3"? No. . . If EA is going to make another Command & Conquer game, it'll probably be "Generals II". At least, if they're smart and don't want to incur the wrath of a bunch of angry Westwood Studios fans with nothing better to do.
