Okay, once again "dumbass"; I was referring to your topic, NOT your post. Other people had the same problem with misreading it. I knew what it meant, but it is an understandable misunderstanding.

Why don't you just go away and find more exploits to use in other games, since all you do is flame, exploit, and find dumbass excuses why you are even more of a dumbass. Besides, you're everyone's bich here; you must like it, so that's why you keep coming back.

Although, I do admit for all the shit you pull, actually releasing something to the public that can actually be quite useful to most people out there to learn map making/designing is a great thing. (No sarcasm in the last comment BTW) This is what the public needed to see from you from the get-go WITHOUT the belittling comments.
