"Renegade Visualization Tool". Why that mouthful? Because that's what it is. It's not a program that replays matches. Not like Half-Life or WarCraft III, anyway. It simply displays dots and lines on previously generated maps, showing who was where, what they were doing, etc. etc. at the given time. While that's still "replaying" the game, it's not replaying it as it was originally played. If that makes sense.
