I didn't see any of that shit, and I was in the game a lot longer than you were. And you should know, by now, how 'ghosts' of people can appear due to lag, in completely different spots on the map than where the people should be. What are the chances of having two players with mediocre scores and K/D ratios being RenGuard bypassers in the same server at the same time? Especially considering I've never seen anyone that looked like they were cheating while running RenGuard.
