I have to go out to dinner in a few, but I will grant "move" access to several of you who have volunteered when I return. The 'Renegade Client' forum which was formerly the "technical support" forum will need at least the last 30-60 days of threads sorted into the new categories, and the "unsorted" forum should be 100% sorted (for searching purposes). It shouldn't take more than a couple of hours total.

Thanks for volunteering for this ugly, but useful task.
