Question One: In the game, as long as you have Renguard, type in: "!help" and the commands will pop up. Its alittle hard to get them all first time, but you can get them all, if you try hard enough. Also, you can just pay attention to the other players, sometimes they pop up with commands that you can/want to use.

Question Two: No. And dont worry about it. People in those servers are jackasses sometimes, so just ignore them. If i may ask, what was it that the person defamed you for?
