Yes, I suppose in theory we could have a program that connects to 'our' WOL and the real one. The problem is that the people who follow stuff like that is so small in relation to the total number of players that someone drastic would have to happen (like WOL down for good) before people really adopted it.

Other than that, I know v00d00 and Scorpio9a both have a WOL replacement coded. I'm not sure what percent complete they are or how much they've been tested. But, we do already have the hardware capacity to take over if needed in these servers I spend $500/month for.
