Really? the Government has nothing to do with it? Lets bring up the war in iraq. When was the last time we had a conflict with them hmmm... around 1993 WTF are we doing in there?? What ever happened to Afghanistan? Just poof its gone, when was the last time you heard news of the war over in the "stan" a year maybe? (Where is Osama) Bush went in there for supposed "peacekeeping" and I admit he is doing well at that. Since we went over there gas prices have gone up because we get the majority of our Fossil Fuels from overseas (MiddleEast) The prices are at 3 bucks and rising now because of partially the oil companies but some refineries have been destroyed also from Katrina.

I love to argue

And yes Spooky prices have always been up in the United Kingdom and Canada they need to spend more time on dental work than fuel for their "motorcars"
