Are you trying to argue with me that I should have left nopic's thread alone because he, in his own twisted little way, thought it was fine? Okay, so maybe we should leave thieves and murderers alone to do their buisness. I mean, afterall, they don't see it as being wrong, so how dare we inflict our opinions on them? Shame shame.

Sure, we could let the mods do their jobs, but you haven't been here long enough to realize that unless topics are expanded at great lengths, the thread usually stays open no matter how ridiculous it may become. Sure, there are exceptions, but not that many.

I'm the arrogant one because I don't need your approval? Sure...
