He doesn't seem to grasp the idea that free serials with no limit means that anybody can obtain ANY amount that they want. Sure, people don't need more than one or two, but that doesn't mean that they can't have as many as they want. EA doesn't give a damn about the serials, and they won't bother reissuing out the serials, so to give them back would be utterly pointless.

Absolutely, I was "pwned" because anybody who can see the lack of intelligence on these forums obviously has sub-par intelligence themselves.

The lack of intelligence on these forums is easy to see, and most (intelligent) people here will agree.
