Look what rengaurd has done to my computer!!! I uninstalled it because it wouldnt let me log on ("Renegade could not be found") and now when i try to play on the gamespy server, it says "There was an error that prevented you from logging on make sure itsh the correct file path" or whatever, its a load of crap, rengaurd totaled it, and i also lost my first cd and serial, i can NO longer play renegade at ALL.

Is rengaurd ACTUALLY protecting me? Is it actually saving me from hackers? I doubt it, after it ravaged my folder like that.

Also someone i know decompiled it a while back, it showed that It scans things it doesn't need, it steals personal information (serials,...) and so on.

And sometimes it even skips code...

So how is it so safe if it does this? (Im sure my topic will be deleted/closed for exposing this..)
