Yes, it's been brought to my attention that there is someone on Planetside, masquerading as myself and making a mockery of friends of mine on these forums and the IRC.

I do NOT play Planetside, in fact I very much resent it. This person most likely also has accounts of other members of the IRC, forums, etc... If you play Planetside, I just want to make you aware that if you encounter "me", then do not regard this moron with any responses at all.

If you're on this forum, grow the fuck up. You're really not making yourself look cool by impersonating people you'd like to be in real life. Child.
