And you wouldn't ever consider the possibility that he was cheating?

Have you asked your son whether he tried to bypass rg, or hasn't that occurred to you?

By the way, warranto, this definitely is not customer service. He didn't pay for Renguard.

A "company" doesn't have to sell products for there to be a customer service basis. All there had to be is someone using the product. Any assistance received by the "company" who made the product is "customer service".

customer service

Definition: assistance and other resources that a company provides to the people who buy or use its products or services
