Perhaps not by BHS directly, but I have had many an argument with server moderators that believed RG detected all cheats. Cheating is not a viable (nonetheless possibly effective) solution to that problem. Server moderators should listen to their owners. Server owners, being the ones that decide whether or not to enable RenGuard on their server, should know what does and does not work with RenGuard. If either side doesn't, then that side doesn't belong there.

Edit:

CrazyBastard: are you leaving any detail out (however small you believe it to be)? Like, for example, what you were doing before you were banned (and why)?
