Maybe, or maybe not right, but either way we did it.

Me and about 10 guys, went around on halloween night, loking for kids who stole other kids candy (honestly, we were being good guys for once) and every kid we seen, we said give it back or we kik the shit out of yea, everytime cept one, the kids gave it back.

The one time, my friend jake, kiked him to the ground, and took the candy back, no fights really. We stood on a corner with about three pillow cushions full giving candy to the little ones i felt so good that night.