But it still isn't redirected to the site it is suposed to be? I guess they just made this as a banner to keep us in excitement well they are still working on that site or something like that.

I don't get how many times people have to say this... EA Games is on the PACIFIC TIME ZONE. It is currently 12:56 AM on November 4th right now (where EA is located and where I live). They are NOT going to update their site the SECOND it becomes November 4th.
