Why a000000 names could possibly cause offence is beyond me.

It doesn't matter why a player first joins a server, if they like it they'll play there often, if they don't they'll find a different server. If a server with an a00000 name has retarded rules, idiotic moderators etc... people won't go back there just because it has an a00000 name. Flawed argument
