when i select european it just shows the same servers as before :S and with the pings all messed up how are we supposed to find euro servers?

Yeah it's all one, which I personnaly think is a good thing.

So both public servers get on same way.

Anyways for the ping it wouldn'r really matter seeing that you connect to the game server. same host/bandwith ecta.

im confused? how does ping not matter?

if i cannot see the real server pings i might end up on some far western us server that pings at 300+ and lags like a bitch.

Blazer, i have tried that sbbo thing once before but i did not seem to notice any difference and no matter what renegade detects my connection at it does not seem to make a difference. the game has always lagged and warped for me.
