Is that a complete sentence? Why do you reply to a question with a question?

Quote: Now save yourself the embarrassment and mind your own business little boy.

Notice how you enter into this thread. Why do you refer to me as "little boy"? I guarantee I am a larger human than you are. Unless your some freak of nature.

Let me guess your reply. Why are you so stupid? Where did I say i was a bigger person than you? Why do elephants have big feet?

If you were as smart as me, you could insult people and be more witty in the process. I just want others to use correct grammar. I don't care if my response is hurtful or in poor taste.

Also, is it gay to send another man a giant heart with their name on it. Don't answer that. I don't want to read another question to a question.

I'll answer what I can understand from that complete pile of nonsensical crap.

First of all, the highly unoriginal, overused "fuck you" is growing old, I'm not insulted by it, I'm not upset over it. Try harder.

Second, what the fuck are you on about? Complete sentences? If you're on about "fuck you", technically, if you take the meaning of "fuck" as "to have sexual intercourse with" then no, it isn't a complete sentence.

Third, go look up the word "rhetorical".

Fourth, I refer to you as little boy as you appear to have the mental age of a child, not a mature adult. Furthermore, I couldn't give any less of a shit if you were bigger than me or not, It has nothing to do with what I wrote.

Fifth, I don't have a clue what you are on about. I understood "let me guess your reply", it made no sense when you just quoted what I'd already written, but then you completely lost me on the elephants bit.

Sixth, me and gbull have what's known as a "sense of humour", you can look that up as well if you want.

Finally, here's something to help you out

Your = possessive. Example, "I like your car"

You're = you are. Example, "You're so unoriginal"

Now go and do some community service. You obviously didn't listen in your* English classes, so it's the least you can do for wasting the tax payer's money on your schooling.

*FTW Possessive!
