

---

Subject: Re: Christmas List

Posted by Dave Mason on Tue, 13 Dec 2005 17:56:46 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

cypher909 wrote on Tue, 13 December 2005 03:18 Everything I have comes to about $300. I'm selling an r/c helicopter thats worth about $1600. My choices are buy more cymbols or buy this... http://www.musiciansfriend.com/srs7/g=perc/search/detail/basic\_pid/447888/
I don't have much experience with cymbols cus i've never had the money so I wouldnt mind ur opinion. I will probably go for the new set tho.

Damn that's cheap! If that was as cheap in the UK I'd probably sell ym kit and but that.

As for cymbals it depends what kind of style you want to play.

I'm more of a rock drummer so I use a larger china, thicker hihats, a heavier crash and a medium crash along with a thin splash I got for free with the set.

If you're going to be playing jazz, I'd suggest some Zildjian K or K customs and/or A customs. But NEVER buy a cymbal until you've tried it out.

---