The weapons look great, as does the Barracks. However, most of the infantry look bad compared to the newer stuff. I always said the Devil's Demolisher looked like it was hacked together from random metal textures and bits of the SBH skin. I expect you'll want to just get a proper public beta released before remaking stuff, which is fair enough.

Also, there is some really obvious texture overlapping inside the Barracks, at the corners... and the Buggy gun should have 4 barrels. Hopefully you will put these things on a to-do list for the future.
