For being on the renegade engine Reborn is doing pretty good work. Its better then nothing...

As for AK announcing that him and most of the community don't like reborn's work, well stfu. I would love to see reborn finished. As I noticed one of the other posters said most people want gameplay. Not graphics. If the majority of the people here wanted graphics they would probably be playing bf2 or hl2.

Unless you have a recent poll or some other form of proof don't speak for the community...
