Quote:Clue? Aircraftkiller should have been banned ages ago, when he first started flaming and messing up posts.

I've been doing that in these forums since 7 Febuary, 2001. I've only been banned once, by Cliff "Devinoch" Hicks, and that was simply for attacking someone he liked. I probably have the original e-mail somewhere around my computer.

News flash, newbie, I helped Crimson set up #n00bstories and have been in the channel since the day it was created. The only way she's going to ban me is if I really piss her off, and I'm sure that would entail attacking her in some form. I have nothing but deep respect for Crimson (Even if she doesn't support me at times, since I don't want asskissing friends) and I seriously doubt I'd ever do something that serious to her.

I've only read shit coming from you, too! BAN!!@
