You can't post anymore.

Aside from the fact that they can't legally copyright a friggin' modification, Aircraftkiller isn't taking the Reborn team's work and claiming it as his own (who would?). He wouldn't be breaking any copyright law by publishing their work for them and giving them full credit.

If anything, he's doing the Reborn team a favor by actually publishing some sort of a release of the mod, something that the Reborn team has not been able to do for years.
