Just joined dj-gaming because NoN00bs went down, once again.

I wasn't running renguard at that moment. But to play on DJ gaming you need renguard, so I leave. Exit the game. And I "click on Renguard" all of a sudden it starts you just connected to a renguard protected server. While I wasn't even ingame yet. And it pops me up with the following message: [15:14] Trying to connect to server #1...Connected

[15:14] Server is not responding. Trying next one

[15:14] Trying to connect to server #2...Connected

[15:14] Secure link established.

Should I worry about this or? I haven't made any software changes for the last 2 month's.
